ALL TRADES

INGCO tools are devoted to making professional quality tools affordable and they very much live by their slogan: 'Make The World In Your Hands'. WTW tested a set of clamps, an SDS masonry set, speed bore set, a distance measurement laser and a chisel set... And my first impressions were very good.

TEST 1 SPEED BORE

The drill loved every minute using the speed bores which were nice and sharp and ploughed effortlessly through the LVL. The 6mm to 32mm kit performed very well and showed no signs or wear after a nice thrashing.

TEST 2 SDS MASONRY DRILL SET

Once again, my hammer drill was having a ball. The nice sharp bits and debris clearance were excellent! Many holes have since been drilled and the bits are still going strong.

TEST 3 CHISEL

A sharp chisel is a good chisel, unless you're a cowboy and love to chisel out masonry. The chisels have stayed sharp for the few weeks I've been using them.

TEST 4 CLAMPS

The clamps felt solid and nothing they were holding was going anywhere in a hurry. They were easy to adjust and boasted a long shaft for the big items.

TEST 5 DISTANCE MEASUREMENT LASER

I love these things... They're so handy and definitely easier to use more accurate than a tape when measuring long distances. The strong laser was also incredibly easy to see for pin pointing distance.

THE RESULT

I've had the Ingco range onsite for the past few weeks and haven't found anything to complain about yet. They're well crafted quality trade tools and the competitive price tags are a massive bonus
